What you get in this pack

Everything a centre needs to run a Level 1 thinking-English class for a full school year, with no curriculum writing.

40	scripted lessons 40 minutes each: 38 story lessons on 10 picture books and 2 year-end review lessons, with the teacher's lines, differentiation and a four-level rubric.
2	teacher manuals The Teacher Implementation Manual and the Teacher Training Manual with slides, so a new teacher is teaching within a week.
1	sample unit The Lantern With Two Handles, with student and teacher handbooks, plus a one-page curriculum overview.
3	original storybooks Mina and the Midnight Drum, The Lantern With Two Handles and Lina and the Orchard Map, with read-aloud, activity books and printables.
1	first-week check-in With your lead teacher after week one, up to 15 minutes on Zalo or a call.

Your centre provides the 10 picture books the lessons use (one copy each); the list comes with the pack. This sample leaves their titles out.

Licence. One campus, one school year, all of that campus's own teachers. Paid by bank transfer (VietQR) after you accept the written order summary. No resale, sharing, uploading or redistribution. © 2026–2027 WorldWise Learning and JurassicEnglish.com.

The Level 1 Foundation Centre Licence

A full school year of thinking-English for ages 4–8, Monday-ready

Your teachers open the plan and teach. Children learn to say what they think, and why, in English.

What's inside

- 40 scripted lessons, 40 minutes each, for a full school year: 38 story lessons on 10 picture books and 2 year-end review lessons. Every minute is planned: the teacher's lines, the activity, differentiation and a simple four-level rubric.
- Teacher Implementation Manual: the method, the four-step thinking cycle, the one-minute calm-down routine, assessment and troubleshooting.
- Teacher Training Manual and slides, so a new teacher can be teaching within a week.
- A sample unit on *The Lantern With Two Handles (student and teacher handbooks), and a one-page curriculum overview.
- Three original Jurassic English storybooks no other centre has, with read-aloud, activity books and printables: Mina and the Midnight Drum, The Lantern With Two Handles and Lina and the Orchard Map.

Who it's for

Owners and academic leads of English centres and kindergartens that teach ages 4–8 (CEFR Pre-A1 → A1) and want a premium class that is different from textbook-only courses.

Why centres choose it

1. No curriculum writing. Forty lessons planned minute by minute, with the teacher's lines, differentiation and a rubric.
2. A new teacher runs it within a week, using the teacher manual, the training manual and the slides.
3. Parents can see the thinking. Every child builds "I think … because …" sentences and takes home labelled drawings, and each lesson ends with a five-minute task to do at home.

7. One check-in with your lead teacher after the first week (Zalo or call, up to 15 minutes).

Not included

- The picture books. Lessons 1–40 use 10 widely available picture books, which your centre provides (one copy each, for the teacher's read-aloud). The list comes with the pack.
- Live teacher training (available later as a separate add-on).
- Changes to the lessons, new lessons, or other levels.
- Student apps, accounts or platforms.

How the licence works

1. Who may use it: your own teachers, at the named campus, for the school year.
2. Access: by named Gmail accounts only. Tell us when a teacher joins or leaves and access is updated.
3. No resale or sharing outside the campus. A second campus needs its own licence.
4. Printing: print lesson materials, activity pages and storybook printables for your own classes at the campus.
5. The files stay as published. Teachers adapt how they teach in class; the files are not edited, rebranded or redistributed.
6. Brand: you may say you teach "Jurassic English™ Level 1 Foundation" and use the parent flyer supplied with the kit.

Lesson 9 · Excavation: Discovering Feeling Fossils

> This is Lesson 9 of 40, exactly as a teacher in your centre would see it: each phase has its minutes, the teacher's lines are written out, and the lesson ends with three levels of support and a four-level rubric. In this sample the picture book's title is left out; the full pack names every book.

Target Grade Level / Subject / Duration

Grade Level: Ages 4–8 (CEFR Pre-A1 → A1)

Subject: English Language Arts (Jurassic English™ Level 1: Foundation)

Duration: 40 minutes

Overall Learning Goals

Students will successfully transition into a physiological state of readiness (the "Green Zone") to actively engage with the third core literary text. They will restart the "Stratigraphy of Cognition" by excavating and identifying "Word Fossils" (vocabulary related to sacrifice, exhaustion, and connection) from the narrative.

Specific Learning Objectives

1. Students will independently or semi-independently execute the "Butterfly Hug" self-regulation protocol to achieve physiological readiness.
2. Students will identify and extract at least one specific "Word Fossil" (e.g., happy, tired, alone, loved) from the read-aloud text.
3. Students will accurately connect their identified "Word Fossil" to a corresponding visual representation (Emotion Icon or book illustration).

Materials Needed

- Core Text: the unit's picture book (the title is in the pack; your centre provides one copy).
- Emotion Icons: Laminated cards featuring clear facial expressions or physical states (happy, tired/exhausted, alone/sad, loved).
- Word Wall Materials: Blank cards, thick markers, and designated wall space (cleared from the previous cycle).
- Fidget Fossils: Small, smooth stones provided for students requiring tactile neurodiverse accommodations.
- Nature Anchor: A visible natural object in the classroom (preferably a branch or piece of wood to anchor this specific text).

Detailed Procedure / Step-by-Step Outline

Phase 1: Regulation-Before-Reasoning (0–5 minutes)

- Activity: The Butterfly Hug Protocol
- Teacher Scripting Prompt: "Paleontologists, we are opening a new dig site today to study a tree and a boy. Before we open the book, we must get our brains and bodies into the Green Zone. Cross your arms over your chest. Hook your thumbs together. Now, tap left, right, left, right. Close your eyes and breathe quietly for 60 seconds."

Licensed for one teacher / one centre. © Jurassic English

SAMPLE · jurassicenglish.com/products

- Student Task: Students perform the Butterfly Hug, focusing on bilateral tapping and silent breathing to regulate their autonomic nervous systems.
- Action: Distribute "Fidget Fossils" to ADHD-profile students who require a tactile anchor during the upcoming reading block.

Phase 2: The Dig Site — Active Reading (5–15 minutes)

- Activity: Read-aloud of the unit's picture book.
- Teacher Scripting Prompt: "Today, we are hunting for new Word Fossils. We are looking for words that tell us how the Tree and the Boy feel inside their bodies and hearts. Listen closely. When you hear a feeling word, place your hand over your heart."
- Student Task: Active listening. Students use the tactile gesture (hand over heart) when they identify a target word or an emotional shift in the characters.
- Action: Read the text slowly. Emphasize target vocabulary: happy (used frequently by the tree), tired (when the boy returns as an old man), alone (when the boy stays away for a long time), loved. Do not stop to explain grammar or syntax.

Phase 3: Excavation — The Word Fossil Hunt (15–30 minutes)

- Activity: Identifying and claiming vocabulary.
- Teacher Scripting Prompt: "Paleontologists, what Word Fossils did we find in the dirt of this story? How was the Tree feeling? How was the Boy feeling?"
- Student Task: Students verbally share a feeling word they noticed in the text or inferred from the illustrations.
- Teacher Move (Marking): When a student says "The tree was happy," the teacher executes the Accountable Talk "Marking" move: "You found a fossil. 'Happy' is a feeling we heard many times. Let's put that on our Word Wall." Write the word clearly on a card and place it on the board.
- Action: Continue until 3-4 key feeling words (happy, tired, alone, loved) are excavated and placed on the Word Wall.

Phase 4: Linguistic Connection & UDL Expression (30–35 minutes)

- Activity: Connecting text to visual evidence (A1 Indicator prep).
- Teacher Scripting Prompt: "I am holding up a picture of the boy sitting on the stump at the very end of the book. Which Word Fossil from our wall matches this picture of the old man?"
- Student Task: Students point to or verbally identify the correct Word Fossil (e.g., "Tired") that matches the provided Emotion Icon or book illustration.

Differentiation / Accommodations

- Neuroinclusive (ADHD): Provide a "Fidget Fossil" (small stone) to hold during the reading block to satisfy dopamine-seeking focus. Allow standing during Phase 3 if the student remains actively engaged in the "hunt."
- Neuroinclusive (Anxiety): Utilize the "Safe Start." The teacher models the first Excavation (e.g., "I found a fossil! I saw in the picture that the tree looked 'alone' when the boy was gone for a long time"). Never cold-call an anxious student.
- Support Tier: Provide students with pre-selected feeling cards with pictures on their desks. Instead of recalling the word from memory, they can hold up the picture card when they identify the feeling.
- Core Tier: Students must provide a spoken Claim plus visual evidence (e.g., pointing at the book and saying, "The boy is tired").

Licensed for one teacher / one centre. © Jurassic English

SAMPLE · jurassicenglish.com/products

- Extension Tier: Prompt advanced reasoning: "Can you find two feelings on our Word Wall that are OPPOSITES?" (e.g., alone vs. loved).

Assessment & Rubric

Assessment Type: Formative Observational Assessment

Specific Learning Objective	Emerging (Level 1)	Developing (Level 2)	Proficient (Level 3)	Mastery (Level 4)
1. Regulation Protocol	Requires teacher physical prompting to begin Butterfly Hug; struggles to remain quiet.	Initiates Butterfly Hug but stops before 60 seconds; mild distraction.	Successfully executes the Butterfly Hug for 60 seconds independently.	Executes protocol and actively uses the Fidget Fossil/anchor to sustain focus during the transition.
2. Excavate Word Fossil	Cannot identify a feeling word. Focuses only on plot (e.g., "He took the apples").	Points to the character when asked how he feels, but cannot recall the English vocabulary word.	Independently verbally identifies at least one correct feeling word (e.g., "Happy") during the hunt.	Identifies multiple feeling words and spontaneously uses them in a full sentence.
3. Visual Connection	Unable to match the spoken word to the provided picture card.	Matches the word to the picture only with direct 1-on-1 teacher modeling.	Successfully points to the correct visual Emotion Icon when the Word Fossil is spoken.	(Extension) Successfully identifies and explains two Emotion Icons that represent opposites.

Closure / Reflection (35–40 minutes)

- Activity: The 2-Minute Outdoor Reset (Ecological Application).
- Procedure: Lead the students outside or to a large window where trees are visible.
- Teacher Scripting Prompt: "We found fossils about a tree today. Look outside at the real trees. What does a real tree give to us? Do you think the tree outside feels 'happy' when it gives us shade?"
- Action: Allow 1-2 minutes for observational answers to build cross-species awareness and introduce the concept of natural resources. Return to the classroom, review the newly built Word Wall, and preview that tomorrow (Lesson 10: Strata), the class will answer "The Big Question" about the boy's choices.

Homework / Extension Activities

- Home Connection: "Internal Fossil Hunt." Students are tasked with noticing one time they feel "happy" or "tired" at home this evening and must tell their parent/guardian which "Word Fossil" they are feeling.
